Brexit becomes ‘Brentree’ for investors

Lower market prices represent great entry-point

DENVER (June 24, 2016) – Denver-based GRAnderson Wealth Management Group issued the following statement on the topic of the United Kingdom’s shocking decision to remove itself from the European Union.

“GRAnderson Wealth Management is advising its clients that this so-called Brexit should now be viewed instead as a ‘Brentree,’ – a British-inspired entrée into the financial markets,” said Gregory Anderson, CEO of GRAnderson Wealth. “This is an excellent opportunity for investors to take advantage of low prices, especially in the areas of exchange-traded country funds of Germany. We also encourage investment in gold and energy. While we anticipate additional volatility, these sectors represent the smartest areas for investment. A couple more observations: Almost anything that is commodity-based should be considered for investment, because people are looking for safer, more predictable kinds of investments. And we anticipate no interest-rate hikes the rest of the year.”
